DETAILED ACTION

Applicant filed a response to the Non-Final Action of July 28, 2008 on November 25, 2008, December 12, 2008, and December 15, 2008.

In the December 15, 2008 amendment, claims 1, 5-8, 10 are amended. Claim 15 is cancelled.

Newly submitted claims 17-20 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: claims 17-20 are drawn to a recombinant herpes simplex virus and to a method of preventing or treating cancer comprising administering a recombinant herpes simplex virus. The special technical feature, inserting a BAC plasmid into a herpes simplex virus genome and using a shuttle vector to introduce a gene of interest and removing a stuffer sequence construct, was known at the time of filing. Chiocca et al., US 2002/0110543, published August 15, 2002, teach a BAC clone inserted into a HSV-1 vector and that a shuttle vector was used to introduce a transgene of interest into the BAC/HSV-1 construct. LoxP sites flanking the bacterial backbone in the construct and was removed when the cells were treated with Cre recombinase (Chiocca et al., Example 2, Figure 7). Because the invention lacks a special technical feature, the product is restricted from the method of making and method of using the virus. It is noted that had these claims been presented at the time the First Action was written, they would have been restricted.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 17-20 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claims 1-14, 16, drawn to a method of constructing recombinant herpes simplex virus, are under consideration.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Claims 11-14 are drawn to specifically named genes that encode a target protein and one or a specific combination of genes must be elected.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: Claims 1-13, 16 are generic for genes encoding a target protein.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

MPEP 1893.03(d) states: If an examiner (1) determines that the claims lack unity of invention and (2) requires election of a single invention, when all of the claims drawn to the elected invention are allowable (i.e., meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112), the nonelected invention(s) should be considered for rejoinder. Any nonelected product claim that requires all the limitations of an allowable product claim, and any nonelected process claim that requires all the limitations of an allowable process claim, should be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04 and § 821.04(a). Any nonelected processes of making and/or using an allowable product should be considered for rejoinder following the practice set forth in MPEP § 821.04(b).
